

Terri Saulin Frock
PaperWork

BIO:

Terri Saulin Frock received her MFA from the University of the Arts and her BFA from Moore College of Art and Design in Philadelphia. She is a member & the Press Coordinator for Tiger Strikes Asteroid, an artist-run and artist-curated exhibition space located at 319A North 11th Street in Philadelphia. Terri is currently a Middle / Upper School Studio Art instructor at The Agnes Irwin School in Rosemont, PA. She is a former adjunct faculty member at Moore College of Art & Design, teaching Critical Discourse, and a variety of Drawing, Ceramics and Sculpture classes. Terri maintains an active studio practice in addition to teaching, designing and building for residential commissions.